Contributions Matter

Help Us Make Them Visible

If you contribute to PostgreSQL-or know someone whose work deserves recognition-please share it with us.

By emailing us your additions, you help shine a light on often-invisible work and broaden the understanding of what it actually means to contribute to PostgreSQL.

postgres-contrib.org was launched in July 2024 by members of the PostgreSQL community. Our purpose is to highlight and document the wide range of contributions to the PostgreSQL ecosystem. While code is central to PostgreSQL, many essential contributions happen elsewhere. These include community building, documentation, advocacy, event organization, mentoring, and other support roles critical to the project's long-term success.
